

Corporate Learning 2 Go

Corporate learning programs can help you train workers, enable new skills, and keep employees focused on critical business processes that are essential for success. With the rise of mobile devices, employees expect flexible training options built for the next generation of corporate learning. Always-on, mobile-ready training and performance support is only a click away. Are you ready to give your workforce the tools and flexibility they need to learn on the go – anytime and anywhere?

Training and skill levels are tightly linked to business value.

in annual savings and 10%
increase in productivity
when teams are well trained.<sup>1</sup>

75-80%
of managers believe effective training is critical to project success and meeting project deadlines.<sup>2</sup>

Mobile learning and performance support from SAP® Workforce Performance Builder software educates employees across the enterprise, in all industries, in the moment of need.

SAP Knowledge Acceleration provides pre-built training materials and hands-on exercises, for your employees to access from their physical or mobile workstations.

As training increases, so does performance.

x3

Teams are three times more likely to meet significant project objectives when each member receives 10 hours more of project-related training.<sup>3</sup>

6%

IT projects are significantly more successful when 6% or more of the budget is dedicated to training.<sup>3</sup>

40%

IT project managers that meet most of all their objectives provided 40% more training for each team member than those that failed or partially succeeded.<sup>3</sup>

Maximize productive time of your team by giving mobile learners the tools to consume relevant learning content anywhere and anytime with the SAP Learn Now mobile app.

Your workforce is going mobile.

By 2015:
1.3 billion
employees expected in the global mobile workforce.<sup>4</sup>

By 2030: 75%
of the global workforce will consist of Millennials – a tech-savvy generation.<sup>5</sup>

Employee mobile access is growing, thanks to the “Bring Your Own Device” trend. Mobile access is set to reach half of all employees in the European Union within the next 18 months.<sup>6</sup>

Extend the easy to use, secure and collaborative authorizing environment of SAP Assessment Management by Questionmark to popular Internet browsers and mobile devices that can automatically collect and collate the results.
