Map out a plan to optimize your enterprise-wide procurement landscape. Assessment for procurement brings together all stakeholders to develop a plan for transforming the end-to-end sourcing and procurement process. The service quantifies the value, feasibility, time, and effort of migrating your current procurement environment to an optimized on-premise and cloud-based solution landscape.

The service is modular, so you can select the components and scale the project to meet your assessment needs (see figure on the next page). We work with you to tailor a project that delivers the most value.

While the service scope can be tailored, you can expect the following:

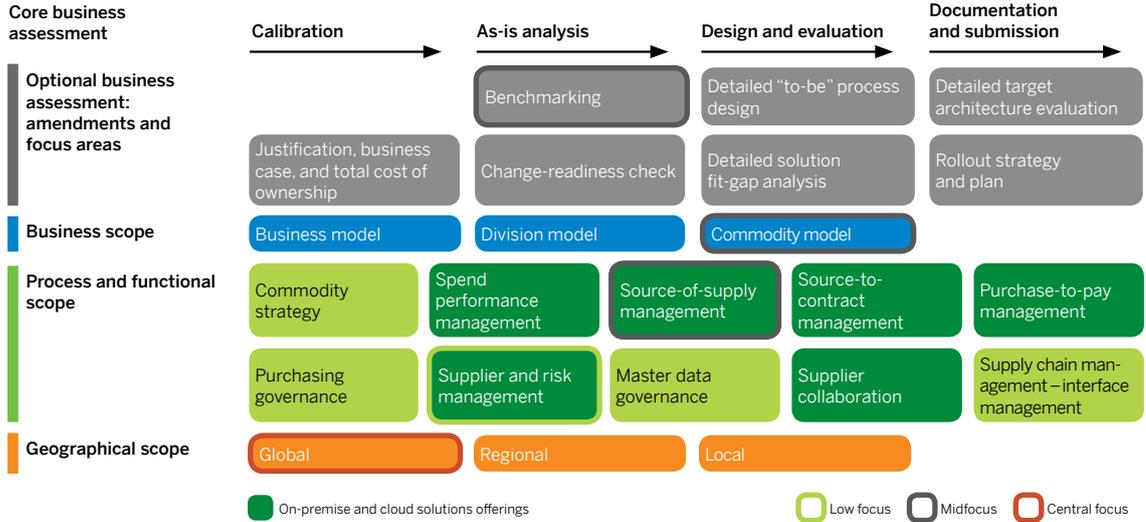

- Interviews to define goals, scope, and approach
- Analyses of existing purchasing profiles, procurement and IT strategies, and procurement processes and systems
- Review of the project environment and other corporate initiatives
- High-level design of the “to-be” process and solution landscape
- Road map for process transformation

As market leaders in on-premise and cloud-based solutions, SAP and Ariba can help you transform your sourcing and procurement operations for the networked economy.
