Your subscription to SAP Learning Hub brings you more than content. While it gives you access to the SAP Education organization's library of e-learnings, class handbooks, online knowledge products, and other materials, it also gives you the opportunity for informal learning.

You may be preparing for a customer project, studying for a certification exam, or building your own SAP software skills. Whatever the case, you will find the learning rooms of SAP Learning Hub provide you with the informal learning and interaction that is so important for SAP solution mastery. Learning rooms are virtual spaces on SAP's proprietary social media platform where you can collaborate with other learners and interact with a skilled and experienced SAP instructor.

You can ask questions, view videos, receive and review assignments, chat with other learners, debate opinions, and experience the networking benefits of a traditional classroom right from your desktop or mobile device.

Learning rooms are available only to customers of SAP Learning Hub. Customers of SAP Learning Hub, enterprise edition, can set up private learning rooms for their own organization. Learning rooms are intuitive to access and use and are available 24x7 for as long as your subscription to SAP Learning Hub lasts. We currently provide learning rooms for our most popular topics and are adding more all the time.
