

SAP EDUCATION FOUNDATIONS PROGRAM

LEVERAGING ON OPPORTUNITIES TOMORROW STARTS WITH THE RIGHT QUALIFICATIONS TODAY

Having SAP skills and relevant business knowledge can open up a universe of opportunities to thrive and succeed.

In today's highly competitive environment, organizations that believe in continuous education and training for their employees have an edge over their rivals. In addition to ongoing education programs, SAP is introducing a new initiative, the SAP Education Foundations Program, to the SAP Ecosystem. Targeted at fresh graduates or individuals who have less than one year's work experience, and limited or no SAP project experience, the program aims to accelerate enablement, providing a strong set of foundation skills necessary to succeed within the SAP professional environment.

This new global program is in support of SAP's belief to educate and train new and existing resources for enterprises and communities that are committed to successfully delivering SAP solutions. Recent market sentiments for enterprise applications have been positive. IDC and Forrester analysts project a six percent growth between 2005 and 2010 in the enterprise applications market. SAP, as a market leader in enterprise applications, is in a unique position to support communities and individuals who want to tap into these growth opportunities.

SAP Education Foundations Program

The new comprehensive SAP Education Foundations Program enables individuals to be quickly equipped with foundation skills. The program curriculum consists of basic SAP training, soft-skills, short specialization and project experiences. These skills are necessary for them to succeed within the SAP consulting environment.

Benefits for Individuals

The SAP Education Foundations Program offers an excellent overall foundation for individuals and the skills set attained are transferable to any location in the world. The qualification obtained from the program is endorsed by SAP and will be recognized by employers globally as the industry-standard mark of quality within the SAP Ecosystem.

The program validates the knowledge and expertise of individuals, making them potentially employable. It brings individuals up-to-speed to be SAP project-ready, which further enhances their employment potential to recruiting firms. Upon completion of the SAP Education Foundations Program, individuals have the option to take further certification paths. These certifications qualify individuals to access their choice of SAP specialist topics and enable them to embark on specialization earlier their careers.

Benefits for SAP Systems Integrator Partners

The SAP Education Foundations Program is the most cost-effective way for SAP Systems Integrator partners to quickly bring their new hires up-to-speed for their businesses, in terms of SAP technical skills and other business skills. The program content provides a high standard of teaching and the qualification and it also provides SAP Systems Integrator partners with a ready pool of potential hires for their businesses, which helps partners to quickly take advantage of the growth market opportunities.
