Students' career opportunities depend on the decisions they make today. Investing in SAP® software knowledge makes students more marketable and in greater demand no matter what their major is. The student edition of the SAP Learning Hub site is a learning portal designed for university, college, or higher education organizations that provides access to a comprehensive range of learning content on SAP solutions. At a fixed subscription fee, universities can purchase access for their students. Through SAP Learning Hub, student edition, students can prepare for SAP certification exams and future employment. With a wide range of high-quality content and optional live access to training systems from SAP, students can learn when and where they choose.

Content libraries on the site are continually updated and provide access to:

- Social learning: A dynamic global community of learners, instructors, and subject-matter experts
- Handbooks: Intuitive how-to content in flip-book format
- E-learning courses: Interactive multimedia content, assessments, and guided procedures
- The SAP Live Access environment: Optional access to training systems from SAP that help you hone skills
- SAP Ramp-Up program content: First-level product training with the latest on new releases for customers in the program

SAP Learning Hub helps your institution provide a meaningful investment in your students' career success. Visit www.sap.com/learninghub to learn more, or register for the free discovery edition at <https://training.sap.com>.
