Notwithstanding any provisions of the Sybase License Agreement to the contrary, You are licensed to use Sybase Search on one (1) Machine with the number of processors (“CPUs”) specified on the Order on the Operating System Software and at the site(s) specified on the Order. The license fee payable by You for Sybase Search shall be determined by multiplying the total number of processors by the applicable rate each as set forth in the Order. In the event that the number of processors on the Machine is increased, You shall promptly report such increase, execute a new Order, and pay an additional amount determined by multiplying the incremental processors by the then applicable rate per processor set forth in the Price List.

D. Sybase Real Time Events
